Hill’s Kitchen Supporting Brent - A Message from the Owner

Hill’s Kitchen treasures our Capitol Hill community and understands the relationships between business and the greater community. Since our founding nearly ten years ago, we have demonstrated our commitment by providing gourmet kitchenware items for innumerable auctions to benefit neighborhood schools.

We will enthusiastically continue to support these schools, and in hopes of increasing our impact we’re trying something new in 2018. Instead of providing items for auction, we will be donating 10% of designated sales from April 7th through April 15th to these schools.

People who shop at Hill’s Kitchen during that week and designate support for a school will have 10% of their total purchase donated to that school. You do not need to be a parent at the school – you can designate your neighborhood school, the school that your grandchildren go to, or any DC area school you want to support. Customers must let us know at that time of purchase that they are designating a school, and we’ll take care of the rest.

Our new program should be a win-win proposition: the more purchases your community makes, the more Hill’s Kitchen will donate to your school and the more customers will become acquainted with our store. Let’s raise lots of money for all of our neighborhood schools!
